Ambulance Controls, Pay Raises Voted By Warren Boro Council

An ordinance regulating ambulance service in Warren borough and pay raises for borough employees totaling about $12,000 were approved by the Warren borough council Monday evening. The raises go into effect in January. The ambulance ordinance will become effective when the newly named board sets up its regulations.

Members of the ambulance board are J. A. Williamson, administrative director of the Warren General hospital, who will serve three years, Dr. W. S. Walters, two years, and Health Officer E. F. MacKendrick, one year.

Both ambulances and drivers must be approved by the board, and must be licensed annually. The fee will be $1 except for non-profit services.

Insurance must be carried amounting to $100,000 for injuries to one person, $300,000 for two or more people, and $10,000 for property damage. Violators will be subject to a fine of not more than $100 and thirty days in jail.

The largest pay raise was that for chief of the fire department which went up about $70 to $430 to place it on a par with the police chief. Police raises averaged about $10 a month, though a new category of patrolmen for more than thirty months will receive $320, an increase of $20.

Firemen increases also average about $10 a month, except for officers who enjoyed $15 and $20 increases.

The pay scales follow:

Policemen -- Chief, $430; 1st Lt., $360; 2nd Lt., $350; Sgt., $330; Patrolman first six months, $260; Patrolman after six, $290; Patrolman after twelve months, $310, and after thirty months, $320. Police clerk, $200.

Firemen -- Chief, $430; Asst. Chief, $350; Capt., $330; Jr. Captain, $330; Mechanic, $295; Hosemen, first six months, $250; 2nd six, $265; after twelve, $280, and after thirty months, $290. Firemen's clerk, $285.

Street Department -- Superintendent, $400; mechanics and equipment operators, $1.50 to $1.65 an hour; drivers, $1.40 to $1.55; laborer, $1.30 to $1.45. All work over fifty hours, time and a half.

Park Department -- Superintendent, $390; equipment operator, $1.50 to $1.65; laborer, $1.30 to $1.45. All time over 44 hours, time and a half.

Building custodian, $205; bookkeeper clerk, $315; clerk stenographer, $265; engineer department assistants, $1.30 to $2 an hour.

Board of Health -- Health officer, $280; secretary, $50; clerk, $195.

Council also accepted the resignation of W. T. Davidson from the planning board and replaced him with L. N. Donaldson, who will serve until October 17, 1957.

A resolution was passed which authorized the borough secretary to publish a notice of intent to levy a per capita tax for 1957. This is expected to bring in about $41,000 and was the tax introduced about eight years ago to take care of a deficit for one year. Sort of a tax that came to dinner.

Manager Geracimos reported that the engineer expected the Glade

Run paving to be completed soon. Sixty per cent of the rough grading is completed.

Council passed an ordinance which creates a parking meter lot on the YMCA property north of the Y building. Leased for five years it will have thirty-two meters for use when tennis is not in season. It will cost five cents an hour from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m. The rest of the time it is free. If any profits result after the meters are paid for, the money will go into the parking authority fund.

Council bought a new police car from Dan's Chevrolet, for a net cost of $1190. A 1955 trade-in was worth $1,007.55 as a part of the deal.

Council voted to accept the bid of the Buffalo Scale Co., of Buffalo, N. Y., for a new borough scale to test trucks. It will cost $4,032.

Council also approved an ordinance which granted a right of way to the Manufacturing Gas Co. across the airport.

Joint Board Considers Glade Twp. Site, 27-9

Members of the Warren Area Joint School Board voted 27 to 9 Monday night to select an area in Glade township as the site for a new high school and that the said site be surveyed in connection with engineering and architectural studies to determine what precise amount of land and location would be required for school purposes.

Action was prompted after the joint committee, at its November meeting, passed a motion requesting the Joint Board to pass a motion at Monday's session for a new high school building on a site referred to as the Swick site.

It was pointed out to the board that no decision could wisely be made in adopting the Swick site Monday night, as the specific area has not definitely been determined. The resolution passed stated the site be in Glade Township on the premises owned in part by Sarah F. Swick and others.

A second resolution, passed by a vote of 35 to 1, gave the joint committee the authority to proceed to contract for services in connection with a new school to determine precisely the nature of the building, amount and location of land required. Prior to this time the committee had decided on the architectural firm of Meyers, Kriider, Werle & Ellenberger of Erie, subject to contract approval. The negative ballot was cast by President Melvin G. Keller.

After the count of the ballots on the first resolution the "yes" votes had been cast by Miley, Clarendon; Robert Smith, Richard Smith, Miller, Lincoln and Porter, Conewango; Chinberg, Anderson and Nordin, Elk; Johnson, Mathis and Pearson, Glade; Colosimo, Flatt and Snow, Kinzua; Grosch, Dorrien, Saylor and Clapp, Mead; Tremblay, Pleasant; Mickleson and Westfall, Watson; Cowden, Frantz, Hanson, O'Connor and Jewell, Warren.

The "negatives" were cast by Brian, Sleeman, Dickerson and Bauer, Clarendon; Schaeffer, Ruhlman, Nollinger and Hultman, Pleasant; and Keller, Warren.

To carry the resolution six of the representative boards (9) had to be in favor, two-thirds (24) of the members present had to be in favor, and a majority of the total 47 board members had to be in favor.

At its meeting later in the evening the joint committee decided to invite the architects to the January session when the issue could be discussed further.

The Joint Board reelected Mr. Keller as president, Lee Schaeffer as vice president, and Ernest Miller the secretary for four years, at the annual election of officers. The treasurer, Charles Frantz, remains in office. As has been the custom for the past three years, the same slate was accepted by the joint committee.

Several other routine matters were discussed in the joint committee session, including a report on use of the third floor of the high school structure for additional space starting the 1957-58 term. It was brought out that the third floor of such a building is not allowed, however it is possible permission may be granted for a short period.

It was reported that football receipts for 1956 totaled $4,365.97 and seven per cent of this ($305.62) was turned over to the borough.

Dr. Carl E. Whipple, superintendent, stated that the November per cent of attendance was 96, the highest since 1948. There were 3,743 students in all buildings.

A bill amounting to $2500 for professional services rendered by Lawrie and Green, architects, was approved. Also $487, special services; $593, substitute teachers; $630, janitors overtime; $16,124, bills payable from the general fund; $382, orders written during the month.

RESOLUTIONS

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS the program of the Warren Area Joint School Board embraces the matter of increased and enlarged high school facilities for the area and the need for such facilities is already certified to the Department of Public Instruction; and whereas the Board proposes the furnishing of such facilities by the acquisition of an appropriate site for a new high school and the erection of a building thereon, NOW BE IT RESOLVED that Warren Area Joint School Board select as a site for a new school an area in Glade Township adjacent to or near Warren Borough, on premises in part owned by Sarah F. Swick and that said premises, known as the Swick site and owned by the said Sarah F. Swick and others, be surveyed in connection with engineering and architectural studies to the end that the Board may hereafter decide what precise amount of land and the location thereof would be required for school purposes.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS the Joint Committee of this Board has selected Meyers, Kriider, Werle & Ellenberger as architects for a new high school project and this Board has selected a site known as the Swick site, the precise location and amount of land to be hereafter determined upon engineering and architectural studies, and whereas the Board wishes at this time to proceed with the definitive plans for a new high school, BE IT RESOLVED that the Joint Committee proceed at its convenience to contract for architectural and engineering services in connection with a new high school upon the Swick site, so-called, for this purpose of determining precisely the nature of a high school building to be constructed and the amount and location of land requisite for school purposes.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS. The Warren Area Joint School Board and joint committee elected as their officers Monday night (l. to r.) Lee Schaeffer, vice president; Melvin G. Keller, president; Ernest Miller, secretary for four years; and Charles Frantz, who is still serving out the term of treasurer.

BUSY Y-TEENS decorated the YWCA at the annual "Hanging of the Greens" on Monday evening. The actual decorating took place following a Christmas program where Miss Mary Jane McHenry, faculty member of Warren high school, was the guest speaker. Chairman of the event was Janet Whitmire.

OLD TIMER. This is the way the Pennsylvania deer looked in the days before the herd grew so large that lack of sufficient feed reduced the size of the average buck. This old boy was shot by Gerry Mead, Russell R. D. 1, while hunting in the Fox Hill area, Monday morning. Though the buck weighed about two hundred, it had a frame that would jump that another fifty or sixty pounds if the old bones had been filled in with beef.

The state is checking the deer's jaw to determine how old he is, and an autopsy revealed that the deer had been shot in some previous season, which may have affected its health and weight.

A SPECIAL PLEA

While I was away, one of my guest columnists, Alistair Cooke implied - implied, hell, he said it in plain English - that I was hopelessly compromising myself by asking all these entertainers, including himself, to write columns, that henceforth I could say only nice things about the people who had done my work.

Well, we shall see! Now as to "Omnibus", Mr. Cooke's particular baby - but come to think of it, I haven't anything but nice things to say about it. It's true that the quality of "Omnibus" fluctuates, sometimes rather wildly, from week to week but then it is a broadly experimental program. Experiments are not always successful. Still, it would be a sorry day for all of us if there were no "Omnibus" and, I think, a sorry day for the industry which has borrowed a good many of the techniques pioneered on that program. ***

The reason I go into all this is that "Omnibus" ratings since it moved out of the 5 P.M. slot at CBS to the 9 P.M. period Sundays over at ABC have been a good bit lower than last year's. Robert Saudek, director of the TV-Radio Workshop of the Ford Foundation, which produces the series, says he is not in despair. Where on CBS they averaged around 19 (Nielsen) and occasionally hit as high as 30, the ratings this year have been around 12. However, Saudek points out that it's still early in the season when ratings are generally lower, that "Omnibus" still has to find its audience (or, I should say, its audience has to find "Omnibus").

As an example of the sort of unusual thing "Omnibus" does, last Sunday it presented the archetype of all murder mysteries. "I suppose you're wondering why I asked you all here tonight," asks the potential victim to a whole tableful of potential murderers, each well equipped with a motive. The resultant murder was then worked over by three different sleuths - Edgar Allen Poe, the inventor of the murder mystery; A Conan Doyle, creator of the greatest of all sleuths, Sherlock Holmes; and one of the best known of the contemporary sleuths, Nero Wolfe, Rex Stout's creation. Each one pursuing different methods of deduction arrives at the same conclusion. ***

It was a lot of fun and afforded an opportunity to get into the genesis and purpose of the detective story. The rest of the hour and a half was given over to Alice Pearce, a very amusing comedy singer; and to excerpts from "The Great Adventure", a fine nature movie. As to Miss Pearce, I have one word of advice for "Omnibus". No monologist and no patter singer of this sort should ever be put in front of a camera without an audience. The audience for an entertainer of this sort is part of the act and even if "Omnibus" could dig up no more than twelve people, it would make all the difference in the world.

"Omnibus" is large with plans for the rest of the season. Next Sunday, Sandor Szabo, one of the best known actors in Hungary and now a refugee in this country, will be interviewed with his actress wife, Kato Barcsy, and their two sons, and possibly Szabo will be persuaded to do a bit of his best known role, Cyrano de Bergerac, in Hungarian. Also ahead of us are an adaptation of "Madeleine", Ludwig Bemelmans' stories for children; the art of choreography by Agnes de Mille; "Oedipus Rex" with Christopher Plummer; another essay by Leonard Bernstein which has a working title of "Music You Hate" devoted to some of the avant garde music; an original epic tragedy called "Lee At Gettysburg" written for "Omnibus" by Alvin Sapinsley and directed by Delbert Mann; the trial of Captain Kidd adapted from the original transcript of the trial; a series by Joseph N. Welch on the American government, and the biography of Amelia Earhart which "Omnibus" hopes Julie Harris will play. ***

There are very few things in that roster which could conceivably appear on anyone else's program. That is why I am a special pleader on behalf of this program so often. "Omnibus" is a valuable reminder that there are still many kinds of programs that are NOT on the air, that there are still vast areas of unexplored programming.

If it weren't for programs like "Omnibus", we could easily be lulled into believing that everything

SIXTEEN-YEAR-OLD HAS HER OWN VALUES

Institutions step in when children need special handling. Such was the case with Joan, who had been so damaged by parental irresponsibilities that she could not adjust to the family atmosphere of a foster home. Adjustment difficulties did not erase the normal desires of a sixteen-year-old. All girls of that age require a sweater but only the Children's Aid worker, who visits her regularly, would be sure that it was a red, V-neck, orlon, that Joan dreamed about. Gifts are given and greatly appreciated, but the answer to a neglected child's dream is more than a gift -- it's a God-send. Special gifts do not just happen -- they develop through intimate knowledge of the recipients. You can be sure that your gift goes for a special purpose by contributing generously to THE HAPPINESS FUND, Box 628, Warren, Pennsylvania.

In Brief

ERIE MAN ARRESTED. Police arrested and Erie man late Tuesday night after he crashed a red light at the intersection of Pennsylvania ave. and South st. and struck a vehicle operated by Santo S. Pascuzzi, 110 N. South st., Warren.

Pascuzzi was proceeding up S. South st. and was hit in the left rear by Alvin H. Wright, who was moving east on the avenue. The impact swung the Warren car around into a tree.

About $500 damage was caused and Pascuzzi received a bruised temple and knee.

LOITERING on the street corners of Warren last Thursday evening went a little too far as a group of nervous teen-agers decided to choose up sides and go to it. The minor rumpus was broken up early by borough police in the Market--Pennsylvania ave. vicinity and later by state officials when it moved to an out-of-town location.

A number of the ringleaders were taken in hand by authorities, who emphasize they will concentrate on street-corner gatherings.

WHO'S WHO. Arthur L. Chapman, vice president of Sylvania Electric Prod., and a resident of Warren, is listed in the forthcoming edition of 'Who's Who in Commerce and Industry'.

WANT HIGHER FARES. The Warren City Lines, Inc., has asked the Public Utility Commission for permission to increase fares an estimated $3500 a year effective January 9. Rides between the borough and outside points and between outside communities would be increased five cents. The local firm said it lost $600 the last six months and would face a greater deficit if an increase wasn't made.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY directors met this week and learned that the progress of the Happiness Fund to date indicates a generous response to this opportunity for Christmas giving.

It was also announced that the next meeting will be held Monday, December 17, when board members will consult with Miss Mildred Frank of the Family Service Association of America.

1200 PATIENTS AND VISITORS enjoyed the annual Variety Show at the Warren State Hospital Wednesday of last week, when numbers from the Gay Nineties to the Rock and Roll were featured. Jim Hillman, director of recreation at the hospital, and Lloyd Van Tassel, director of music, were in charge.

CHAMBER SPEAKER. The nationally known educator and speaker, Dr. Kenneth McFarland, of Topeka, Kan., has been engaged for the Chamber of Commerce's annual banquet on Tuesday, February 5. Plans for the affair are being headed by Robert Anstadt.

SNOW SAMPLING. A conference of officials representing several agencies was held in Warren to establish a series of snow sampling stations in the Allegheny National Forest. Forest Supervisor E. M. Bacon made the announcement.

One of the basic considerations in the establishments of the Allegheny National Forest was the protection of the watershed of the Allegheny River. Permanent and continuing records of snow depth and water content within the national forest will provide important data on variations from year to year, beneficial effects of forest cover and properly managed woodland areas, and valuable information to the Federal-State-Flood-Forecasting Service which is charged with predicting floods.

NEW CAMPING LODGE. One of the high spots of the Chief Cornplanter Council, Boy Scouts of America, annual meeting Monday was the announcement by William M. Hill that an anonymous donor has agreed to build and equip a troop winter camping lodge at Camp Olmsted.

In the election of officers, Clifford Betts was reelected president. Others are Ivan S. Brumagim, James A. Blomquist and Allen M. Gibson, vice presidents; Neil D. Paterson, treasurer; Myron E. Jewell, assistant treasurer; and Harold L. Banghart and Carl W. Rogers, representatives to the National council.

BREWERY ON WHEELS. The Miller Brewing Company's High Life Cruiser -- a miniature brewery on wheels -- will be open to the public when it arrives in Warren this Friday.

The replica, with a ten-foot beer bottle perched atop a bus, will be located at the Carver lot from 10:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m. Friday's visit was arranged by the Soda and Mineral Water Co., local distributor of Millers in Warren.

CONTINUE PROTEST. Protests to the Pennsylvania Railroad for the type of sleeping car service it provides between Warren and New York are to be continued by the Warren Chamber of Commerce.

After disbanding the service entirely, the railroad recently restored the sleeping car between Philadelphia and New York. But now the Chamber is receiving complaints from passengers about an antique pullman car and a slow ride that causes many late arrivals.

The Chamber directors are going to ask the PRR to provide a modern sleeping car with roomettes and to improve its service to the point it will be attractive and comfortable for persons using the railroad.

PERSONALITIES. Miss Joan Beckley was one of eight candidates for Queen of the "Winter Fantasy", Chatham College's annual sophomore prom held November 30 in Webster Hall Hotel. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Beckley, 15 Fourth ave., Warren, she was chosen to represent the freshman class in the competition.

ARE WE ONE OF THEM?

Has your community asked about the help available for financing sewage treatment plants? Forms now are being mailed by the Division of Sanitary Engineering of the State Health Department to 150 municipalities which have inquired about Federal grants.

An appropriation of fifty million dollars was made at the last session of Congress for allotment to Pennsylvania for payment to municipalities to help them build sewage plants. Over two million already has been allotted.

Applications for grants must be filed with the Sanitary Water Board which will establish eligibility and priority for payment.

If your community is one of those which must build a plant, is it taking advantage of this offer? Does it have plans ready? Is it at least getting itself established on the priority list in case it wants to proceed?

HELP FOR THE POISONED

In 1954 about 1,400 people were poisoned in their homes, a third of whom were four years or under. To combat this danger, the American Academy of Pediatrics has published a new manual which lists 549 products that might be poisonous. It has been distributed to pediatricians throughout the nation for instant reference.

It was financed by a grant from Johnson and Johnson, a manufacturer of surgical dressings, and allied products. Letters were written to nearly every maker of products used in the home, poisonous ingredients were identified and proper treatment to combat them compiled.

This places at the doctor's fingertips immediate advice for such poisoning, whether junior swallows too many aspirins, eats shoe polish for ice cream, drinks kerosene, or swallows something a little less obvious.

Keep all medicine in a safe place, preferably locked. Throw away prescriptions which have served their purpose. Keep cosmetics, permanent wave sets, and similar articles out of reach.

Be sure cleaning fluids, rodent poisons, and insecticides are inaccessible.

Don't put poisons in food containers, such as kerosene in a pop bottle.

Don't take medicine in the dark. Read the label!

Don't expose food in a room where insect spray has been used.

Don't burn fuel, run a motor, use a heater in an unventilated room.

PRESS FREEDOM FIGHT

The continuing battle for complete press freedom is represented by legal action taken by the Pennsylvania Newspapers' Association which is asking the United States Supreme court to reverse the decision of the Westmoreland county court. This court prohibited the taking of news pictures on the premises of the court house during a court session or during recesses.

The order was issued by Judge Edward G. Bauer during the trial of a turnpike killer who was found guilty and executed. A test case was forced by Pittsburgh and Greensburg newsmen who were found guilty and fined.

Their case was appealed to the Pennsylvania supreme court which upheld the lower court in a three-way split decision.

The newsmen are not contesting the court's right to maintain order in the court room, but are very much opposed to that portion of the ruling which extends the prohibition to the area outside the court room and to recess periods.

Judge Alexander C. Flick recently proved that modern photography can be done within a court room if all cooperate and if the new, fast film is used to avoid disturbing flashes. His action may be part of the newsmen's argument to support their contentions.

MISINFORMATION AND EXAGGERATION

Last week the Warren Times Mirror used a letter from a school board member in an effort to prove that access to the Swick site, one of those favored as a location for a new high school, was costly and difficult. This same letter was received by us, but it seemed that the answers were so obvious and to refute it seemed so personally embarrassing that we left it alone.

However, public opinion is important and there is no doubt that many read such articles and are bothered with doubt or confusion. For that reason we probably must counter-attack.

The letter and article left you with the impression that all students who live a mile and a half or more from the school site must be transported. This is false. We cannot understand why a school board member makes such a statement and we do not understand why editors whose job it is to check the accuracy of front page statements have not contacted state or local authorities to learn what the facts are.

First, a school district does not have to transport any students at all.

Second, if it chooses to transport high school students, the state help is available only if they live two miles from the site. Two miles... that is!

Third, in Warren we have a bus service. If students do not wish to walk to school they can take a bus. We doubt if Warren would transport any students who live within the borough.

Fourth, those who live outside the borough already are being transported, and it makes little difference to them what corner of Warren houses the school. Townships on one side or the other will lose or gain accordingly.

Fifth, if we have to transport high school students beyond one and a half miles, why aren't we doing it within Warren borough today?

REIMBURSEMENT WRONG

The article and letter said the state would pay half the transportation cost.

That also is false! At the present time the state is paying seventy per cent of the cost! There is quite a difference!

Assuming that the article was right, and obviously it was wrong in so many places that most of it is discredited, the cost of five busses a year would be $15,000. That is only one mill, and the state would pay seventy per cent of it, leaving us with an annual transportation cost of only $4,500.

RED HERRING

The article and letter toss in a red herring idea which involves filling in part of the gravel pit and building a sixty foot lane up its middle. It said this would cost $566,000.

But whose idea is this? We have not proposed it. No one who supports the Swick site has proposed it publicly. And if the cost to do anything of this nature or of any leveling nature would cost a half million dollars there is one easy answer. Don't do it!

Actually the gravel pit portion can be remedied in at least two easy ways. The cheapest would be to dynamite a bit of its upper portion, grade it off a mite, and plant it with trees that would hold it intact. Beautify it, solidify it, remove all danger, and leave it alone.

TOO SPECIFIC

We believe some of us are becoming too specific. There is much land in the vicinity of the Swick site. It borders right on the borough line. How much of it and what portion of it we want has not been settled. The school might not be back of the gravel pit. It might be further north. The use of the name "Swick" has made it easy to designate an area, and no doubt part of the Swick land would be used.

Most of those who have studied the many sites and have settled on the Swick area as the best are aware that there are enough acres in this section to accommodate a golf course. We can buy as many of these acres as we believe will take care of our future problems. The land cost actually is a small share of the investment and we always will have room for expansion and land for purposes to which future generations may want to put it.

Land is not a bad investment by any town. As long as we are buying a few acres for a high school, why not buy enough to cover all alternatives. The Swick area provides that advantage.

The area school board approached the problem sensibly at its annual meeting. It voted in favor of a new school, and chose the Swick neighborhood for the location. But it remains for the committee and the architect to study the area and make specific recommendations.

The state has shown much favor for the Swick area, and no doubt will approve any portion of it, but we still must obtain its official nod on a specific plan and plot. Actually there are over fifty acres of good land in that section, with a variety of approaches and aspects. We should be able to choose one that will be satisfactory.

Education And
The New Look

By Bob Walsh

The next major change in Pennsylvania education may be the new regional service areas which will replace the counties. Though this will be opposed by many who selfishly defend their provincial rights, a close look may convince you that we are not giving up a thing to the state and are gaining much.

Actually the replacement of county superintendent offices by larger area offices does not give the state greater power. But it does bring the local district board closer to the state along channels through which we obtain help. This help is both financial and technical.

This is especially important today when rural living is increasing and jointures and unions are becoming a major part of our educational system. The old community and township lines are melting away as transportation and communication advances bring all of us closer together in a shrinking world.

Living in the suburban areas is becoming as luxurious as life in the city and many are escaping the crowded metropolitan living with homes outside of town. This augments the need for larger school districts.

The county offices were established about one hundred years ago as an intermediate between the state and the school districts. With an increased need for educational advice from authorities, the state is unable to provide enough qualified people to serve sixty-six counties.

By reducing this intermediate group of offices to thirty-seven, more help can be made available to each. The regional set-up calls for a superintendent, secondary and elementary school coordinators, two vocational advisers, and one special education adviser. With such help available within a region it would not be necessary to go all the way to Harrisburg every time advice were needed, and the economics of it are obvious.

The present arrangement does not care for many special cases. In fact, in small counties there are not enough of each to make special courses or attention possible. However, a new state law makes it mandatory to provide training for the handicapped. The answer may be found in larger regional intermediate areas between the districts and the state.

Though we have written that we do not like the arrangement of Venango, Forest, and Warren counties in a single region because of the resulting geographical pattern, which seems impractical, we also realize that this is not a supervisory arrangement as much as it is an intermediate between state and district.

The exchange of thirty-seven regions for sixty-six county superintendent offices will not put educators out of work. The demand is too great and the resulting regions will need qualified personnel. Most of these people will be strong supporters of the move.

We certainly agree with it in principle. Details can be ironed out as it moves along.

ON ALL-STATE TEAM

Ed Burkhardt, Corry high school football guard, was the only Section Two conference player to make an All-State team in the AP polling this year. He was given a second team berth.

Warren's Don Mohny was awarded first team honors in 1955.

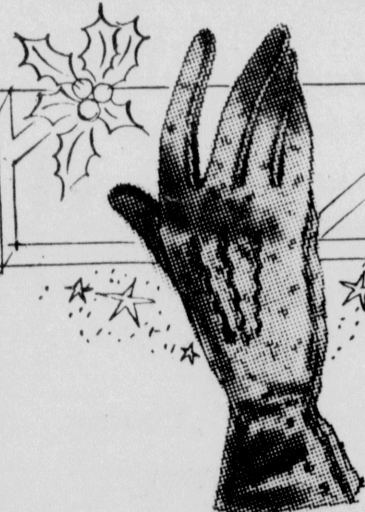

WINTER'S MANTLE turned these evergreens into Christmas Sunday. Photographers should have had a big day.

LIFE GETS TOUGH when your mama is shot and hunters are booming all around you. A small boy found this orphan near Chapman dam. He was brought to the state police station in Warren and calmly waited for someone to call the judge and get him out of there. Game wardens took over and some day when he grows antlers you can shoot him.

MASSAMEN MOVE ON

A well-behaving Warren high basketball team extended its season record to 4-0 this past week by slapping Kane 63-43 (the first time in five seasons) and then Jamestown by a 75-68 account.

Coach Joe Massa's five climbed to a six point edge over the Hill-toppers in the first period and added comfort in the second to lead 27-19 at the half. With Ed Rickerson and Steve Lindquist hitting for 18 and 17 counters respectively, there was no let up for the Wolves in a 36-24 second half as the team favored to be Class A District 9 champs fell to defeat.

Tuesday night the favored Dragons got into a 40-36 half-time deficit and had to come back strong. Adding up power, height and a sharpeye, Warren sliced seven points off the margin in the third stanza and then climaxed the game with a 22-point fourth period.

Jim Mohnkern dumped 23 points to steal the night's honors and was seconded by Jamestown's Ansley, who tallied 22. Lindquist ripped the cords for 14, Rickerson and Ken Hoffman each hit for 13, and Dahl scored 10 for the Blue and White.

Warren now goes (too) lazy. They don't appear on the hardwood again until December 21 against Youngsville and then entertain the Alumni on the 28th. On January 4 the conference opposition starts with Meadville providing the opposition.

GRAPPLERS WIN OPENER

Appearing for the first time under the reins of a new coach in Harold Miller, the Warren high wrestlers powered their way to an impressive 22-20 victory over DuBois on the Beaty mats last Thursday.

Friday night the Millermen will find the going no easier as they journey to Clearfield.

Headlining the Dragon attack were Mickey Kondak (120) and John Colvin (127), who grabbed decisions. Other Warren winners by the decision route were Gail Page (103), Don Brian (138), Den Platt (145), and Harry Brooker (154).

Steve Pearson and Ron Bowen were pinned, while Larry Campbell, Bruce Trevenen and Iver Stenberg dropped verdicts.

GRA-Y LEAGUE TO OPEN

Gra-Y basketball will officially open the 1956-57 season at 12:00 o'clock Saturday on the YMCA court. The main game will pit McClintock against Jefferson with an exhibition game to follow.

At 6:30 the same day Sugar Grove and Home Street will battle it out. An exhibition contest is also planned for this time. North Warren will play on the Community House floor next Thursday -- the opponent to be announced.

LEAGUE TO OPEN

The YMCA -City cage circuit opens tonight (Thursday) at 7 o'clock on the "Y" hardwood with Team 1 against 3 in the first tilt and 2 and 4 in the nightcap.

KNIGHTS POLISH OFF 3RD

Coach Bob Grosch's Knights put number 3 on the board Friday night by clubbing Cassadaga Valley 61 to 39. NA goes to Wattsburg Friday and will be open next Tuesday.

Last Tuesday night's game between Northern Area and Randolph, as well as the one slated for January 22, were cancelled due to action taken by the latter's school board.

SHEFFIELD PULLS SURPRISE

Starting from scratch after an unmarred 1955-56 season, the Sheffield Wolverines opened up with a surprise 57-55 overtime victory over Smethport last Friday night and then added more icing by trimming East Forest this Tuesday with a 48 to 31 margin.

Andrews and Miley were the big guns with 17 points each against Smethport, the former dunking the winning two-pointer. Slater provided the most scoring against the Marienville five with 14.

Coach Ralph Santo will now take his Wolverines on the road to Youngsville Friday night and then a return match with the Smethport team next Tuesday.

EAGLES STAY HOME

Youngsville high's Eagles stay home for a while to play host to Sheffield this Friday night and then Lawrence Park next Tuesday. To date the county quintet has dropped two, including a 55-45 one to Lawrence Park last Friday.

SPARTA, SPARTA!

After losing their first three games, Tidioute pulled one out of the fire Tuesday by downing Spartansburg 49-35. The Bulldogs meet the same Sparta team again Friday away and then take a vacation until December 21.

IKE FOR GANNON.

Warren's Ron Isackson, one of the big boys on the Gannon College five in Erie, starred with 16 points for the club against Geneva (even though he fouled out with 9 min. to go) and nine in the Carnegie Tech game. Gannon lost both contests, however.

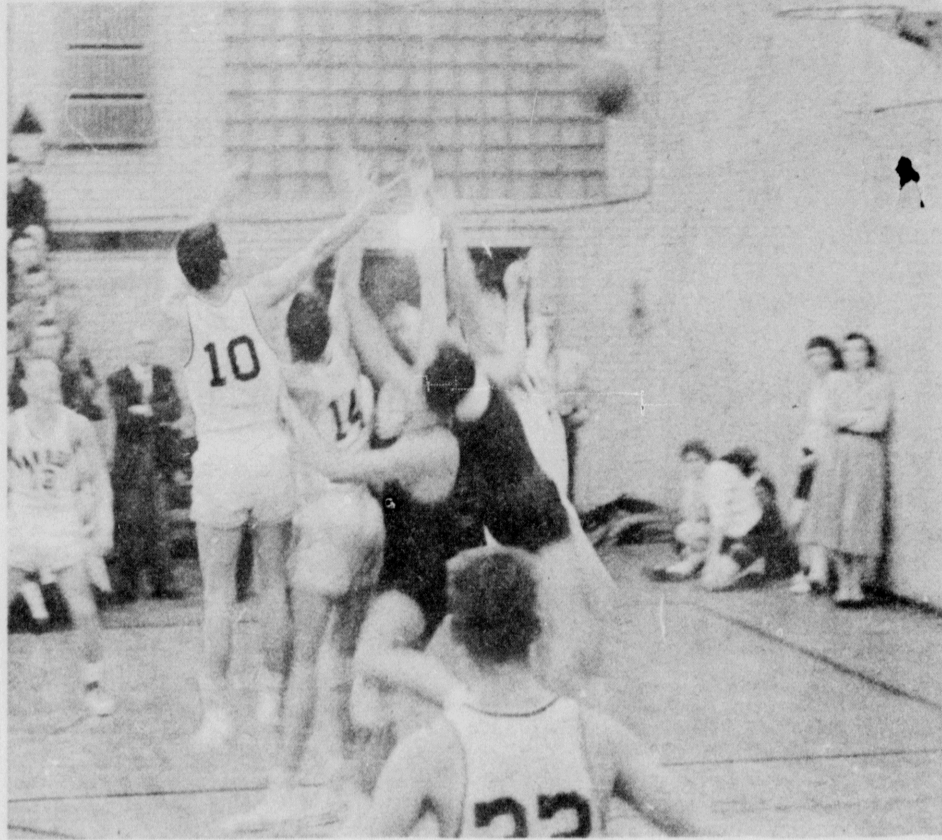

AREA CAGE SCORES

A glance at the area scores for the past week shows three Section Two teams still running undefeated. Warren beat Kane 63-43 and Jamestown 75 to 68, and Franklin downed Clarion 64-58 and Lakeview 57-52, to make it four in a row; while Corry dumped Millcreek 46-43 and Union City 71-49 for a pair. Meadville now stands 3-1 after defeating Sharpville and Greenville by respective scores of 61-35 and 63-57. The remaining two lost both of their games. Oil City dropped to Academy 48-42 as Titusville became the victim of Greenville 60-45 and Millcreek 64-55.

Turning now to the county quintets, it was Northern Area 61-39 over Cassadaga Valley, Youngsville on the short end of a 55-45 score with Lawrence Park, Tidioute splitting with a 62-29 loss to North Clarion and a 49-35 victory (the first) over Sparta, and finally Sheffield upsetting Smethport 57-55 in an overtime and then backing it up with a 48-31 score over East Forest.

Moving elsewhere they went this way: Randolph 75, Pleasantville 33; Pleasantville 52, Townville 49; Emporium 46, Coudersport 34; Ridgway 47, Brockway 43; Clearfield 64, St. Marys 38; Port Allegany 47, Johnsonburg 39; Kane 49, Johnsonburg 27; Bradford 73, Erie Tech 59; Erie Tech 63, Harborcreek 45; Erie East 43, Edinboro 41; Sharon 86, Erie Prep 44; and Jamestown 66, Falconer 52.

Sharon 59, Butler 40; Farrell 67, Liverpool, Ohio, 53; Farrell 63, Youngstown Ur. 35; Sharpville 49, Conneaut Valley 27; Fredonia 60, Rocky Grove 35; Cameron City 42, Smethport 40.

REBOUND ACTION in Friday night's Warren-Kane tilt. The Dragons emerged successfully, 63-43.

BIG NAME TOURNEY

Erie will get a big name golf event in June of 1958. The Western Open for the ladies will be played at Kahkwa. And the men's Erie open next year has been placed on the official PGA schedule which should assure it a bigger share of the name swingers.

JAYVEES WIN TWO

The Baby Dragons of Warren high roared to a pair of wins this past week with Bob Yerg and Nicky Creola pacing the way. This combination piled up 27 points to lead Warren 56-37 over Kane and then shared 36 points in upending the Jamestown Jayvees 65 to 37.

play starts. If so, Warren has a contender.

There also is some material on the seconds. Though it is inclined to dribble too much. Why waste time dribbling when there are men well ahead, and clear, to whom you can pass? The opposition can stay with your dribbling. But you can run it ragged with sharp passing. Next year doesn't look so glum, though a bit of capable height would be useful.

MAYBE HE WAS RIGHT

Watching the Giants and the Browns swim around in mud and rain Sunday, we were reminded of a great uncle, George by name, who had his idea about such things.

Uncle George was a big, strong gentleman, who had lived an eventful life. He had driven a stage and was inclined to enjoy anything that was on the rugged side.

One of the major football teams out of Buffalo at the turn of the century was brought into Jamestown for a pro game. Jamestown put together its very best and a major attraction was in promise. Our dad and uncle thought this would be perfect for Uncle George who had never seen a football game. They took him to the game, convinced they had found something "modern" that would be tough enough for the big fellow. It rained the night and morning before the game, and the field was thick with mud.

The two teams lined up and immediately began to beat each other into the goo. Sure that this added bit of natural ruggedness would convince Uncle George that this was a sport for real men, they turned to him with hope in their eyes and asked, "What do you think of it?"

Uncle George glared at them for a second, turned on his heel and started for the gate. About ten feet away he turned, chewed another ounce from his tobacco, vibrated his chin whiskers, and spat accurately between them.

"I think," said he, "they are a bunch of dag nabbed fools!" And he continued his two-mile walk home.

(The expletive has been greatly softened by the years and the post office.)

BUT AT THESE PRICES

However, Uncle might have changed his mind today. The boys out there Sunday were playing for the chips, and rather blue ones.

WORTH THE TRIP.

The latest Cinerama film is playing in Buffalo and those who have seen it seem to speak as highly of it as the first one. This one is known as the Seven Wonders of the World and it takes you to the Colossus of Rhodes, the Pharos of Alexandria, the Hanging Gardens of Babylon, up the Ganges, down to the bottom of the Hoover dam, and around the world.

You touch Africa, Asia, Europe, South America, Hawaii. You see everything from Geisha girls to the Kamakura Buddha. You watch the temple dancer and the Watuzzi dancers. And all of it in a kind of photography that makes you feel as though you were on the spot.

Worth the trip of 200 miles up and back, a short trip and a few short hours to see what would take thousands of miles and many months. The eighth wonder is the scientific progress which makes such entertainment and education possible.

In Development Act

Major action at the meeting of the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night was the decision to participate in the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Assistance Act, which permits matching grants for county-wide development organizations. So that the funds can be obtained from the state when needed, the organization's directors accepted the local industrial development committee's recommendation.

The purpose of the IDAA is to provide from the state a part of the funds necessary for research, planning and promotional activities relating to local development on a county basis. One organization in each county may be the recipient of a grant which is part of the one million dollar fund appropriated by the Dept. of Commerce for this purpose. The local organization, however, must match the grant.

The Warren County Commissioners must first designate the Warren Chamber as the organization representing the entire county under this program if it is to become eligible for the matching funds. It is then necessary that the governing bodies of the townships, boroughs or cities representing a total of 50 percent or more of the 1950 population of the county concur in the resolution.

Funds could be used in various ways, including surveys and studies of data pertaining to local natural resources and raw materials, engineering surveys and planning of industrial districts, preparation of maps and aerial views, and many other activities that should prove to be useful in the overall promotion of the development and expansion of commerce and industry in this area.

In other activity at the Chamber meeting the airport committee, headed by Stanley Doeblner, reported that local business firms are being contacted to raise a portion of the money needed to repair the strips at the local airfield. Between $4000 and $5000 has been guaranteed to the borough by the Chamber committee to pay for half the cost of repairs.

The fight to keep Route 6 on the Interstate System was reported on by Clifford Johnson, who stated additional data showing the importance of Route 6 to the northern tier of the state was being gathered to submit to the Bureau of Roads in Washington.

DSA Award Locally

The Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce, in conjunction with the celebration of National Jaycee Week (January 19-26), has planned a full program.

Heading this is the annual Bosses' Night dinner January 24, when the Distinguished Service Award will be presented to the young man in Warren who has been selected as the outstanding contributor in leadership and service to the community in 1956.

Any person in the Warren area may nominate a young man for the DSA under these submitted governing rules:

1. The Junior Chamber of Commerce Distinguished Service Award is presented annually to an outstanding young man of the community for leadership and service to the community during the calendar year. The nominee need not be a member of the Jaycees.

2. Any young man, 21 through 35 years of age, is eligible for nomination. If the nominee reaches his 36th birthday before December 31, 1956, he becomes eligible because the activities for which he is judged were performed when he was 35.

3. The judging committee will be composed of distinguished citizens of the community who are now over age 35. Their decision will be based on (1) contributions to the community welfare during the year, (2) evidence of leadership ability, and (3) evidence of personal or business progress.

4. All nominations must be received by the Jaycee DSA committee prior to Monday, December 17, 1956. Address the entry blank published elsewhere in this to DSA, P. O. Box 147, Warren, Pa.

The committee in charge consists of Bill Clinger, chairman, Don Karl and Creed Erickson.

$35,000 DAMAGE. An estimated $35,000 damage was caused in an early evening fire Tuesday at the Edward Zimmerman farm located at the end of Conewango ave., ext.

It is believed that spontaneous combustion was responsible for starting the blaze that leveled the 125 by 50 foot structure, as Mr. Zimmerman had loaded wet hay into the building about a month ago.

The owner, with a son, was in the barn when the flame broke out and was responsible for saving 26 head of cattle and a riding horse that was in the basement. Three of the animals had to be shot and two others were trapped in the blazing inferno.

Also destroyed were 3000 bales of hay, an undetermined amount of machinery, a new milk house and cooling system. Less than half of the loss was covered by insurance.

About 45 firemen from the Russell and Glade Townships responded to the call, but found the barn too far gone to save and concentrated their efforts to protecting a small building nearby and keeping flying sparks down.

Mr. Zimmerman was nearly overcome by smoke and treated at Warren General Hospital.

FIREMEN from the Russell and Glade Township volunteer departments turned out with two trucks and 45 men to battle the Zimmerman barn fire Tuesday night.

KEEPING WATCH. John Davies, of Conewango ave., ext., was assigned to watching the excited cattle that were herded out of the burning Zimmerman barn Tuesday. He is pictured here looking at the rear of the burning structure after it had collapsed.

Should Outsiders Do Our Assessing?

Ask the average citizen if Warren county should employ outside specialists to assess our property for taxing purposes and most of them will say "yes". Their reasoning naturally is that outsiders will be unbiased and will be skilled in the work.

It also is argued that assessors elected in the various wards and precincts are politicians and are not qualified to do the work. If that is so our democratic process is indeed in a sad state.

Politically it no doubt is wise for the county commissioners to employ outside help. This seems like an astute move and no one can blame the commissioners if the job does not suit them. They can run for re-election or for election to other offices with the claim that they have done a fair job.

But have they? Is it not possible that employing outsiders to do our assessing will prove a very expensive job today, and a continuing costly one in the future. Values will change, new homes and plants will be built. Who will assess our property next year, or any given year thereafter if no one locally is qualified and if politics can be brought to bear?

It seems to us that the important factor in the assessing business is to provide the public with a measuring stick. Once we are familiar with the basis on which all assessments are made we will have a basis on which to make appeals. We can look at our neighbor's property and see if it has been fairly assessed on the same basis.

Today there is no basis for appeal. Every assessor has a different method of arriving at his figures. The taxpayer has no rule which he can apply when checking the value placed on his property.

Given such a measuring stick, local assessors would do no more than obtain the figures and facts about each property. A trained chief assessor, and maybe an assistant, would use these to arrive at the value.

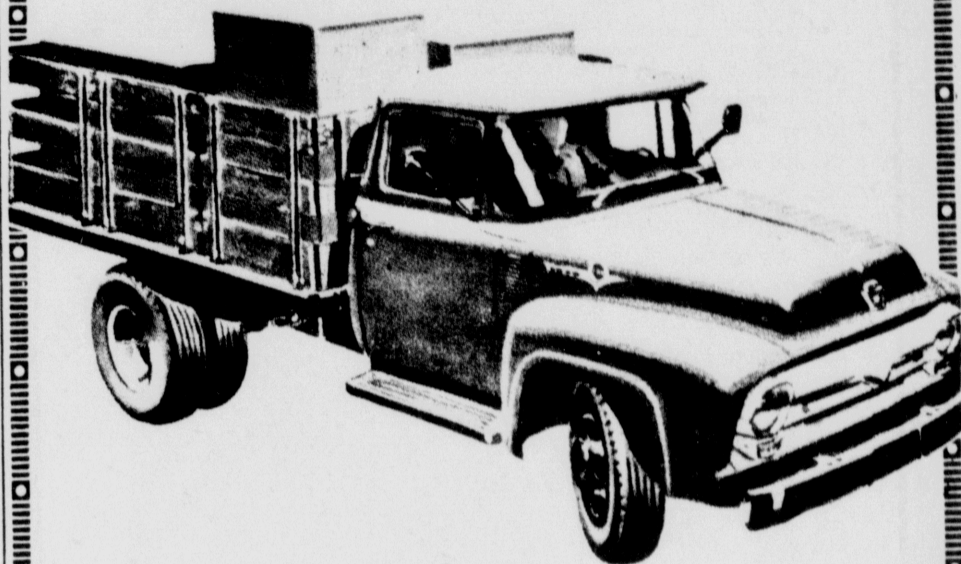

We believe that specialists in the field of assessing are needed to tell us how to do the job. We should obtain advice in this field so that we can arrive at a pattern for determining values. Once this is done, it always will be ours and future office holders can apply it. More important, the public will become familiar with it and no politician will be able to deny an appeal if the appealed value does not fit the rules laid down.

We are afraid that the use of specialists to do the entire job will be but a temporary relief. In a very few years you will find the assessments in another confused state, with no trained help to keep it in order, and no standard by which the taxpayer can determine whether or not he is being unfairly charged.

We need a long range system, started by professionals, and carried on by trained chief assessors. Area assessors then also will have a definite method to follow and the political parties should see to it that intelligent people who can follow instructions in the gathering of figures and facts are chosen to run for such important posts.

We contend, therefore, that we need only the help of pros to give us the system and train the chief assessors. We can take it from there, and the public will have a basis for its appeals.

The leading question, "Should local or outside people do the assessing job?" is not a fair one. It does not reveal all the aspects. We believe the public will support the local method when it knows the angles and the facts.

Your commissioners now are puzzling this through. They want to do a fair job. Tell them what you prefer. And certainly you prefer a standard by which all can arrive at fair assessments, a standard by which you can judge if you are fairly taxed.

INTERNATIONAL QUESTIONS

Recent events are providing many questions in the nation's press for which we have read no answers. The pros and cons of numerous angles have been the subjects for columnists, editors, commentators, statesmen, and all who have a medium for public speaking, but there are some that leave us a bit curious.

We are inclined to wonder why we were so firm with our old friends and allies . . . and so weak in our relations with Nasser.

We are puzzled why our intelligence, which is supposed to know when our potential enemies are preparing to strike, did not know when our friends were preparing a major movement in the Suez. We work closely with them in Nato. Such a plan would require much preparation. We missed it.

At least the President said he knew nothing of it. If intelligence knew, why didn't it report it to the nation's leader?

* With talk of a new, positive policy toward Africa and the Middle East, how about South America? With Russia building submarines by the thousands, a friend supplied with raw materials close to home may be useful. We should not be dependent on raw material from Africa and other far ports. And a positive policy in modern United States history is apt to mean trade with luke warm friends and actual enemies at the expense of dependable friends.

* Are we not deluding ourselves into thinking that a major war must involve atomic or hydrogen bombs. Is it not possible for Russia to fight what amounts to a near world war without firing a single modern explosive?

Is it not possible that they are so confident that we would not first use an atomic weapon that they might even fight us with submarines and everything short of atomic weapons? Are we ready for such an outbreak of little fires in all parts of the world, and even involving us? Will we so fight or will we break the calm by exploding the first bomb? Armed for no other kind of war, what will we do?

* Isn't it possible that the next war will not start with a Pearl Harbor for which we are watching, but may come through the side door, the window, and the drain pipe by way of small wars and high sea gunnery?

* Is the oil situation in Europe a sample of our war preparation? Is this the best we have done with NATO? We read that plans are now being made to provide our friends with oil as a result of the Suez being blocked.

Why wasn't such a plan ready to swing into action? A foe easily could have blocked the Suez with one well placed bomb, and Europe would have been out of fuel in a few weeks.

All of these thoughts lead us up to a pair of puzzlers . . . are we really prepared . . . and what is going on in Washington?

Larry Stotz, Allegheny National Forest ranger, has some interesting angles on the deer season in his column this week. He says:

"For the past several years, personnel of the Allegheny National Forest have been patrolling sections of highways and woods roads on the Forest during the first two days of deer season in order to get a cross section of hunting pressure, and other important information to help them do a better job of wildlife management.

"As one of those participants in this annual survey, I meet a lot of hunters in the field, and the contacts with them are always interesting and pleasant. It gives me the opportunity to explain some of the things we are trying to accomplish on the Allegheny National Forest, and I get the hunter's reaction to some of the things we do.

"This year we measured the girth of deer killed, and from a table which correlated girth with weight we were able to arrive at the approximate weights of these deer. The weight, together with antler development, tell an important story about the amount and quality of the feed that was available to the deer before they fell under the hunters' bullets.

"On the first day of the season I interviewed one of the most consistently successful hunters I have ever met. For every buck killed over the years he had a notch on his rifle butt. He had been hunting on the Allegheny National Forest for the past fifteen years, and his rifle butt bore fourteen notches. While his skill, coupled with a fair share of luck, remained nearly constant throughout this period, the quality of the bucks he killed had steadily declined both in weight and antler development.

"He still had vivid memories of the fine buck he killed the first year, back in 1941. It weighed 211 pounds hog dressed, and the wide rack had eleven points. In contrast, the buck he got in 1956 had five small points on a tiny rack, and only weighed 90 pounds. He remarked that shoot fifteen years ago you didn't. back at the first buck that came along, but hunted until you located one that suited you. Today, however, you had to be satisfied with the first one you saw since you might not get another one within your sights.

"Some hunters blame the small size of the deer today on inbreeding, but there is no such thing in wild animals in the forest. These small deer reflect the scarcity and poor quality of the browse on the forest. Of 31 deer I checked weights on the first day of deer season, the smallest buck weighed 75 pounds, and the largest weighed 175 pounds. The rest averaged around 100 pounds, and twelve out of the thirty-one deer were spike bucks.

"Although some hunters still camp in tents during the deer season, more and more are bringing house trailers into the hunting country, and of course an increasing number are building permanent hunting camps on the forest. The days of roughing it under an improvised canvas "wickiup" are almost a thing of the past.

"I encountered one hunter who had spent his younger days hunting from a tent camp. Now he has gone modern, and combines comfort with the pleasure of hunting. I visited his big house trailer parked at the side of a Forest Service road in the heart of good hunting country. He had a portable power plant running which furnished him with electric lights, and ran the electric blower in the circulating oil heater. For entertainment in the evenings he had perfect reception on the television set with which this luxurious house trailer was equipped. A jeep station wagon with 4-wheel drive, and chains on all four wheels, insured him against being stuck there for the winter."

JAMES S. VALONE

James S. Valone, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Valone, 504 Market st., Warren, and student at the University of Pennsylvania, has been nominated for membership in Phi Kappa Phi, national scholarship society.

Last April the young Warren man was elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa for his outstanding academic achievement. He has also been quite active in other college programs.

A man who is contented with what he has done will never become famous for what he will do.—Fred Estabrook.

SCROOGE'S SWEETHEART—

EVERYONE HAS
"BABY DOLL" P.J.'S

It is terrible to be ten years old, in the hospital and required to dress in the hospital nighties when all the girls in the ward have the shorty, "baby doll" variety of night wear. Sara was in that predicament and brooded so over the problem that gifts from the Children's Aid Society were pushed aside as tears produced rivulets down her cheeks. Can you explain to a ten-year-old that her parents cannot afford the coveted p.j.'s or even that the arrangements, the transportation, and most of the gifts had been provided by the Society? No, like the social worker, you are thankful for the HAPPINESS FUND and dip into its reserve to replace the tears with a big smile. Smiles are purchased regularly by contributors to the HAPPINESS FUND. If you would like to buy a few for some unknown boys and girls in Warren County, mail your check today to THE HAPPINESS FUND, Box 628, Warren, Pennsylvania.

Warren School Board Adopts Salary Schedule

A suggested 1957-58 salary schedule for teachers was approved Monday evening at a meeting of the Warren Borough School Board. The minimum set up by the school leaders was $3500 and the maximum $5200 for teachers with a normal school diploma and two years training, $5300 with three years training, $5600 with a Bachelor's degree, and $6000 with a Masters degree.

The schedule is with the understanding that $200 of the salary is the cost of living bonus. Teachers not on the scale will be given $400 rather than the required $300 and four years credit will be given for teaching outside of Warren.

A recommendation of the buildings and grounds committee to enter a five-year lease with the County Commissioners for use of Home Street, Jefferson, Lacy, McClintock and South Street buildings as voting polls was accepted. To cover janitor service and other expenses the charge for each location will be $15, with the exception of Jefferson, where it will be $25.

The board received its first general appropriation check from the state in the amount of $173,547.20 and approved payment of $30,219 to the Joint Board, $900 to the Library Association, and $8,816 to the public school Employment Retirement Board for one-half year.

Also approved were payments in the amount of $1,159, substitute teachers; $34, special services; $166, janitors overtime; $346, orders written during the month; and $1,026, special school milk program. The finance committee was authorized to pay bills totalling $42,286.26.

Permission was granted Gerald Newton to meet with the state curriculum committee, Dr. Carl E. Whipple to attend a meeting of the state council advisory committee, and for Thomas Barratt to be a representative at the convention of the Association of Supervisors of Curriculum in St. Louis, Mo., with expenses paid.

A request from the Warren

Recreation Board to go ahead with the summer playground supervision schedule was approved. This will also include supervision for ice skating if Borough Council gives its approval and is willing to pay its share of the cost.

The board reelected Howard Lauf-ferberger to the Borough Authority.

JUST A MOMENT. This shot catches Mickey Kondak, a fast moving 120-pounder, just seconds before he put Jan Cryster's shoulders to the mat.

To make certain you get the fastest possible Long Distance service, make it a habit to call by number. That way, the operator avoids a detour through Information in the distant city. On the average, your calls go through twice as fast!

You can easily keep track of the numbers you have occasion to call by listing them in "The Blue Book of Telephone Numbers." We'll be happy to give you a free copy. Just ask for it at our Business Office.
